

January 20, 2022

To Whom It May Concern:

This is a formal letter of recommendation for Mrs. Mandi Eberle, who is seeking a faculty position.

Over the past thirty years, I have had the privilege of learning and teaching with many students ranging from the K-12 to higher education in a variety of capacities ranging from teaching to administration. Since I have known Mandi over the past seven years, she continues to witness a strong calling in the classroom as a first grade teacher, while aspiring to model Christian, Catholic, Benedictine character and academic qualities as an undergraduate student at the University of Mary.

In my view, the true test of character is, not only performance with those who are intently evaluating, but also the performance outside the formal structure where one must exhibit quality character even when others are not looking so to speak. Mandi is a person who is aware of such traits and continues to develop them in her current experiences as a full-time elementary educator and recently completed her graduate studies with a degree in Curriculum and Instruction with a focus of study in Digital Learning and Teaching. Mandi's current full time elementary teaching and leadership experiences mentoring and collaborating with first year teachers and practicum students, combined with her past strong record as an undergraduate student in practicum, student teaching and volunteer opportunities while at the University of Mary, and her graduate degree, strongly and uniquely qualify her as a formidable candidate for a faculty position.

Overall, I would highly recommend Mrs. Mandi Eberle for a faculty position. Should you have any additional questions regarding the qualifications of Mandi feel free to contact me at any time via e-mail: mwtaylor@umary.edu or cell: (701) 955-2488 or office: (701) 355-8360.

Respectfully submitted,

Mike

Mike Taylor, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Education
University of Mary